Homecoming brings Smith Terps back to campus, often with future Terps in tow!

1 Members of the Smith community, including Alissa Arford EMBA '10 and Jennifer Hankin '06, strike a pose in front of Van Munching Hall in support of the Maryland men's basketball student manager, Zach Lederer, who is battling brain cancer. Lederer struck the muscleman pose after a surgery to remove his brain tumor, asking his father to snap a photo to send to friends and family letting them know he was staying strong. The "Zaching" trend, as the pose is called, has gone viral at UMD, as students, staff, faculty, alumni, and friends show their support for Lederer.

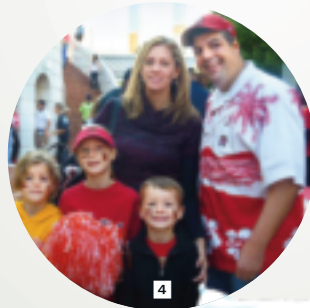

2 Alums gather for the networking event at Offit Kurman Law Firm in Philadelphia.

3 Smith EMBA alumni and their families attend the UMD-UVA tailgate. Left to right: Sonny Sinha MBA '10, Filiz Serbes, Kiati Plooksawasdi '98, MBA '10, David Tracz, Kimberly Sullivan MBA '10, Parul Bhandari, Manik Kohli MBA '10, David Benedict MBA '10, Cheri Benedict, Bonnie Kandel, and Don Kandel MBA '10. Front: Sarina and Alyssa Plooksawasdi.

4 Rob Mercer '87 and wife Pam Mercer '91, with Bridget (6), Charlotte (8) and Hobson (4), stopped by the Smith table at the Riggs Alumni Center at Homecoming.

5 Alumni Relations staff at the 2011 Homecoming tailgate: Joyce Jones, Serene Liao MBA '11 and Jennifer Mao '07 with Testudo at the Riggs Alumni Center.

6 Jonathan Scofield MBA '04, with children Campbell (5) and Emory (3), enjoys the second annual Alumni Tailgate sponsored by the MBA Association.
